BELL ELABORATES PLAN FOR SUFFRAGE OF WOMEN

Non Partisan Judiciary—Prison Reform, Short Ballot and Other Matters Considered

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Legislators, and speculators on legislation, gathered today at the Palace Hotel for another all-day session. Several Democrats and old-line Republicans appeared. The conference was called to order by Meyer Lissner.

The subjects discussed were the short ballot, a non-partisan judiciary, direct legislation, a constitutional amendment providing for the commission form of government for cities, equal suffrage and prison reform. The morning program was arranged by Lissner. The session began with a report from Senator Bell of Pasadena, on equal suffrage. Senator Boyon followed with a report of the committee on election laws, advocating the removal of the party column from the ballot.

Judge Wilbur of the Los Angeles juvenile court, reported his plan for the creation of a reformatory for first offenders.

Senator Bell's plan for creating equal suffrage, elaborated before the conference, is in the change of section one, article two of the California constitution, making the pronouns so read as to permit the law to give women the ballot.

He advocated making the offices of surveyor general, state printer, and clerk of the Supreme court, appointive instead of elective. He also favored the removal of the present requirement of candidates to file accounts of their campaign expenses.

EXPECTS MRS. EDDY TO RISE FROM DEAD

Mrs. Stetson Makes Prediction
That Many Believe Will Rend
Church Asunder

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—That Mrs. Augusta Stetson's predictions that Mrs. Eddy will rise from the dead, will result in a division in the Christian Science church, is freely predicted by ecclesiastical workers. Mrs. Stetson's friends say the schism will divide the church. They see in her prediction a signal victory for the excommunicated rival of Mrs. Eddy. The action of the church in accepting Mrs. Eddy's death as a fact is freely criticized by those awaiting the "resurrection."

Mrs. Stetson's Prediction
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Augusta Stetson, excommunicated Christian Scientist, confidently expects that Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy will rise from the dead.

"The founder of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in this city freely expressed this belief last night in giving out a letter she wrote to a student on December 18. In her talk Mrs. Stetson even more explicitly than in her letter asserted this conviction: 'It may be today, it may be twenty years from now,' she said seriously. 'I do not know that Mrs. Eddy will give a demonstration of truth—that she will come back to us in the semblance of human flesh.'"

Mrs. Stetson does not use the word "resurrection." There is no death, she argues, hence there can be no resurrection. She calls it a "demonstration."

VILLAGES LEVELED AND LIVES LOST FROM EARTHQUAKES

ATHENS, Dec. 30.—Whole villages in the province of Elis were leveled by the recent quakes, and according to reports this morning many persons were killed. The number of fatalities and the extent of the damage cannot be ascertained until direct communication has been restored.

GILL WILL FIGHT SEATTLE RECALL

Mayor Opens Suit to Prevent Certification of Recall
Petition

SEATTLE, Dec. 30.—Mayor Hiram Gill, against whom a recall petition has been filed, today took his first official cognizance of the document. The law firm of Hoyt, Frye and Blewett, with which he is connected, filed notice with the corporation counsel that application will be made to the superior court restraining the city comptroller from certifying to the recall document. The mayor brings suit in his own name and alleged gross irregularities in the recall petition.

CONGRESS WILL BE ASKED TO MAKE LAW AGAINST SPIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Congress is to be asked to enact legislation for the punishment of foreign spies. A similar law will also be suggested to the Philippine Assembly.

The cases of the two English officers recently imprisoned in Germany as spies will be urged as examples. Army officers say that drastic measures are necessary to put an end to the wholesale spying that is being engaged in by Japanese secret agents, especially in the Philippines.

The War Department is apparently making no effort to get detailed reports concerning the landing of explosives illegally in the Philippines and the arrest of a Japanese spy at Corregidor.

SINGER SUES FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles Examiner: Suit for divorce was entered in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Mary Le Grand Reed, the well-known singer, who has been a resident of Los Angeles for nearly two years. Mrs. Reed spent her early life in Toronto, Canada, and later went to Europe to complete her musical education. She came to Los Angeles about two years ago and has been a favorite in musical circles here.

TONGUES WAG OVER MANILA MESSAGE

War Department Hears What Is Termed Equivocal Denial of Japanese Activity

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Practical confirmation of the dispatches from Manila telling of Japanese activity in an announcement of the war department today. The statement followed a special report from General Leonard Wood. The report states that there is "no indication of a wireless station established here without our authority and that it is certain no arms or ammunition have been reported." This equivocal denial is regarded by many as a means to suppress the truth. Experts point out that it is not denied that a wireless station is used by the Japanese, or denied that arms and ammunition were found. It merely says none have been "imported." The report is causing more speculation here than the original news.

INDIAN GIRLS ARE ARRESTED

Second Time in Few Weeks
They Have Escaped From School at Sherman

The two Indian girls, Viola Knight and Marie Romer, aged 15 and 16, who escaped from the Sherman Indian school several weeks ago, escaped again four days ago, and were again captured here. They were arrested at A. Ale's wood yard on West Fifth street this afternoon by City Marshal Edwards and Officer Isenberg.

The girls distinguished themselves after their first capture here by escaping from the Indian School officer, Long. They jumped off the train at Fullerton, and returned here, and were caught at the same place they were found today.

FRISCO FAIR WORKERS THINK VICTORY IS WON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The Californians are conducting a quiet though complete poll of the senate and house, on the Panama Exposition for San Francisco. Reports of scouts convince them the San Francisco cause has been won. Those directing the fight felt it necessary to make certain. They are satisfied, and every effort now will be made for the forcing of a vote in the house January 17 on the selection of the city.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Flying three hundred and seventy-five miles in seven hours and forty minutes, Aviator Tata-teau today set a new record in the competition for the Michelin $4000 prize for sustained distance flight. At 3:20 this afternoon he was still aloft threatening to eclipse Farman's duration record of eight hours and thirteen minutes.

Tata-teau carried an unusual amount of petrol and declared he would remain aloft until his engine gave out or the petrol was exhausted. His speed with his heavy load of fuel caused amazement to the other aviators.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 30.—Barney Oldfield and Jim Jeffries narrowly escaped death this morning when Oldfield's automobile broke its connecting rod near National City, and went into a ditch, dumping its occupants. WHO WILL HOLD OFFICE IN DISFRANCHISED TOWN?

WEST UNION, Ohio, Dec. 30.—With every voter of Jefferson township in Adams county disqualified and disfranchised for five years for vote selling, the people are wondering who will fill the township offices. The situation is unparalleled in the history of the country. The governmental problem will be put up to Judge Blair, who presided when the indictments were returned. Since he has disfranchised the voters, the people demand that he settle the problem, as none is now qualified to hold office. The alleged election frauds probe will continue in other townships and a hundred or more true bills are expected.

ARBITRATION LAW PLANNED

Washington Solon Would Impose
Stiff Fine on Those Who Refuse to Arbitrate

SPOKANE, Dec. 30.—Stiff fines for employers or employees failing to accept compulsory arbitration will be provided in a bill to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature by Senator George Shafter.

The proposed law, which is patterned after the Massachusetts statute names fifty dollars a day fine for the workmen and a hundred dollars a day fine for employers who strike or cause a strike by refusing to submit to arbitration.

The bill will be opposed by the State Federation of Labor, which is endeavoring to have a similar law of its own which it is now drafting, submitted.

PASADENA, Dec. 30.—The directors of the Tournament of Roses have started to Los Angeles to confer with the aviation committee regarding their change of plans and their decision to hold aviation events on Rose Tournament day after promising not to do so. A Pasadena bank threatens to secure the withdrawal of $5200 of Pasadena's subscription to the aviation meet unless the New Year's meet is cancelled. An inter-city war it threatened.

CHOPIN CLUB WILL STRIVE FOR TOURNAMENT HONORS

PASADENA, Dec. 30.—With a check for $4000 at their disposal, the gift of four daughters of a New York millionaire, the Chopin club of Los Angeles is planning a float to carry off the Tournament of Roses honors. The float is to be drawn by twelve black horses. Fifty women will be grouped around an artificial lake in which will be twelve mermaids.

The Tournament of Roses promises to eclipse all former events.

FATE DISCOVERED OF PROSPECTORS LOST 13 YEARS AGO

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 30.—A special to the Times from Valdez, Alaska, says:

Five hundred feet down a crevasse in the great Valdez glacier have been discovered the bodies of six burros, making up the pack-train of a party of Eastern prospectors who started for the Copper River country from this port thirteen years ago and were lost.

W. H. Crary, traveling over the glacier, made the discovery. The depths of the crevasse were momentarily illuminated by the sun as Crary crossed it and he caught sight of the burros.

With the aid of his binoculars he saw the bodies in a perfect state of preservation, equipped with pack-saddles and packs. He could not discover any human bodies, but it is believed the owners of the pack-train also perished in the crevasse, and an attempt will be made, as soon as the weather moderates, to learn whether such was the case.

MANY ARE SEEKING JOBS FROM COUNTY

The Next Board of Supervisors Has a Lot of Appointments at its Disposal in January

At 10 o'clock Tuesday next the Board of Supervisors will meet—the new board: H. E. Smith (incumbent), first district; T. T. Talbert (incumbent), second district; D. S. Linebarger (incumbent), third district; Fred W. Struck (incumbent), fourth district; Jasper Leck (successor to G. W. Angle), fifth district.

These five men have the passing out of some plums. That is, they have a pie to cut. The plums run all the way from $50 a month and house rent up to $3,500 and patronage. Who will get the jobs that are within the gift of the Board of Supervisors?

Answer that question if you can. There are a good many people who have a first-hand interest in what the supervisors may do next Tuesday. Of course, if the board so desires it can postpone the appointments to a later date, and it may take that course with some of the positions, except that of the appointment of county assessor. That office doubtless will be filled next Tuesday.

The term of Assessor D. N. Kelly, who was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of W. M. Scott, who died in November of this year, will end on Monday.

Will Lots be Drawn?
If the men who will compose the next Board of Supervisors have decided whether or not they will draw lots for the short and long terms, that fact is not known. The state law provides that those counties where the election of a full board comes at any one election, the five men must draw lots, two of them to get two-year terms and three of them four-year terms. Orange county had the same situation previous to this time, and the supervisors passed the matter over, drew no lots and all five served four-year terms. A new law has been passed, and it is now said that lots may have to be drawn.

It goes without saying that none of the men elected wants to jeopardize his chances for serving a four-year term, and he will not do so unless the law is mandatory.

Who Will be Chairman?
When the board meets on Tuesday next, County Clerk Williams will call it to order and state that the first business of the board will be the election of a chairman. The chairmanship is an important office, though it carries no extra remuneration. The chairman acts as spokesman for the board oftentimes when petitioners are before it. He names the board's committees. He signs ordinances, bonds, etc., and performs many duties that do not fall to the other members of the board. He can let the business of the board drag or he can keep things moving. He can do a lot or he can do little. It depends on the man.

So far as there has been any talk, two members of the board are considered for the chairmanship. At first it was thought that Talbert would be chairman without opposition. Two or three weeks ago, however, it developed that Smith also would be a candidate. Who will it be—Talbert or Smith?

Who Will be Assessor?
The often-discussed assessorship is the biggest thing in the gift of the supervisors. The assessor's salary is $3500 a year. The office carries more patronage than any other office in the courthouse. The assessor has the appointment of a chief deputy at $100 a month and seven field deputies who serve four months at $130 a month, a total patronage for the office of $4850 a year. A part of the $3500 salary may go for extra help.

It's a pretty good job. The wise ones still say the appointment lies between N. T. Edwards of Orange and D. N. Kelly of Santa Ana, though now there is considerable Stewart talk. Others whose petitions have been circulated are A. I. Stewart of Fullerton, G. W. Angle of Santa Ana and Henry Yount of Tustin. B. C. Balcom of Fullerton has been mentioned as a candidate, but since no petition for his appointment has been started it is quite certain that he is not a candidate.

Considerable pressure has been brought to bear from the north end of the county to compel Linebarger to stand stiff for Stewart, but since it is known that Linebarger has a hot iron in the fire in behalf of Dr. Gordon for county physician, it is not thought he can do much for Stewart. Still Stewart's friends are confident.

Friends of Kelly and Edwards say that Stewart will not get more than one vote, if he gets that.

Who Will be Physician?
Dr. Gordon doubtless will have a petition before the board for appointment for county physician, which job pays a salary of $1350 a year. Though there are three Republicans on the board, the chances that the appointment will go to a Democrat are by no means small. Some one or two of the Republicans have no particular choice for physician, while he or they have some particular choice for assessor. Thus does the assessorship complicate the appointment of county physician. Dr. Ball, the present county physician, will not be a candidate. Other Democrats than Dr. Gordon have been talked of. Drs. Wehrly and Burlew, Republicans, have been mentioned as likely to have petitions before the board for the appointment.

The Stock Inspector
With its salary of $1500 a year, the county stock inspectorship looks mighty good to every veterinarian. Dr. W. S. McFarlane of Anaheim holds the position at present, and it goes without saying that he wants it again. Other petitioners will be G. W. Clossen of Anaheim, F. A. Ramsey, H. O. Manter and F. C. Wright of Santa Ana.

Five Other Jobs
The supervisors have some five other jobs to hand out. There is the county bee inspectorship. At present the position, which pays $3 a day when in service, is held by J. E. Pleasant of Silverado, a Democrat, the oldest apiarist in the state in point of years in the business. Many beekeepers are backing him strongly. George W. Bercaud of El Toro and G. W. Stevens of Laguna, both Republicans, have petitions in circulation asking for the appointment. Both these men are apiarists.

The keeper of the county park in Santiago is a good job of the kind. It pays $50 a month. The keeper gets a good comfortable house to live in and has some grazing and farming ground at his disposal. If he is so disposed he can make something selling ice cream, soda water, etc., to picnickers. A. B. Tiffany, who has had the keepership for the last four years, seeks reappointment. Charles S. Mason, who held the job before Tiffany, wants to get back into it. He was out with his petition yesterday. The petition of Elias Hadley of El Modena is already on file with the county clerk. All three candidates are Republicans.

House-room also goes with the appointment to steward of the county hospital, so-called, at the corner of Fifth and Spurgeon streets. The salary is $50 a month. E. H. Turner, steward at present, will have as his opponent J. R. McMurdo of Santa Ana. Both men are Republicans.

Gardener of the courthouse grounds, paying a salary of $60 a month, is sought by at least three men, including E. R. Halesworth, who has the job, and Jones and Sturgeon may file petitions.

George Benedict has no opponent for the appointment as janitor of the courthouse. Benedict has made a first-class man, and all the courthouse officials want him reappointed. The job pays $125 a month, out of which he pays an assistant.

With all these appointments coming up, the meeting of the new board of supervisors will be interesting.

Hoxsey WILL TRY TO BEAT HIS OWN RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—The aviation committee has decided to keep the charity meet open on Monday, Jan. 2, on account of the demand for events on this day.

Ladies' Day Today
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—Five hundred San Diegans arrived today to attend the aviation meet. They were accompanied by a band, and paraded the streets. Col. Collier, director general of the San Diego exposition, leading. From San Diego they traveled on a special Santa Fe train, one car being occupied by officers and men from Fort Rosecrans.

Today was ladies' day at the meet, ladies being admitted free. Hoxsey this morning confirmed the report that he would try for a better altitude record. Special features were promised.

Yesterday's Events

Mt. Wilson has frequently been conquered, and upon its peak, 6090 feet high, the burro and the eagle have met. Yesterday there was a new conquest; Arch Hoxsey drove his air chariot up from Dominguez field, struck a high level way in a zephyr-blown meadow and bowled along above the valley until the peak was 4000 feet under him. He cut a hoop in the sky at 10,000 and returned to the field the way he had gone, after a flight of two hours and a half and a distance traversed of nearly 100 miles.

This is perhaps the biggest thing ever done in the way of artificial flying. Aside from Hoxsey's flight, the biggest thing yesterday was passenger-carrying voyages by Latham, Parmelee and Brookins. The latter had as passengers William M. Garland, chairman of the aviation committee, who made the first trip, and Frank A. Garbutt, also of the committee.

Roy Knabenshue went with Parmelee for a long spin and snapped several pictures with a kodak. Latham's

DISCUSS ADVISABILITY OF PROVIDING PAY WHEN LAWYER IS APPOINTED FOR DEFENSE

Attorneys in the superior court room this morning fell to discussing the advisability of a law providing compensation by the state for attorneys who are appointed by the court to defend indigent prisoners. The matter came up when Leodora Garcia was brought before the court for arraignment. Garcia is the Mexican charged with attempting to kill Luis Manzo, and who probably had something to do with the killing of Reyes Molina. Attorney J. Howard Bell said that he appeared for Garcia in the preliminary examination, but had no arrangements to appear for him in the superior court. Garcia had no money. Bell said he thought it would be necessary for the court to appoint someone to defend Garcia.

Judge West said that he thought he would have to appoint someone to defend Schoenk, whose trial is set for the last of January. Schoenk is charged with arson. The case was hard fought in San Diego, and took three weeks for trial. Owing to the bitter feeling in the case and among the people, the case was transferred to this county. There has been some talk that San Diego's district attorney would ask to have the case dismissed. No such intimation, however, has come from that officer.

The chance that some local attorney might be called upon to spend two or three weeks trying a case, with no pay, started the discussion of the advisability of changing the law to allow compensation, as is allowed in many states. Assemblyman Clyde Bishop said that such a law had been passed by previous legislatures, but always met the governor's veto.

NO EVIDENCE YET IN DYNAMITING CASE

Los Angeles Examiner: Although the investigators had evidence two days ago which they believed pointed to the identity of the men responsible for the dynamite explosion at the Llewellyn Iron Works last Sunday morning, Captain Flammer of the detective department announced last night that the case had become one of the most perplexing mysteries that the police department has ever had to deal with.

Surveillance of the three suspects is still being maintained by detectives, but information was secured yesterday which has led the officers to doubt if the right men are being watched.

Anaheim Man to Use Cement In Building Electric Light Poles—Contract Let

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—A contract has been let by the city for the construction of re-inforced concrete electric light poles on the new Broadway extension. Mr. Orr, the inventor of the concrete pole, has not secured his patent, but expects to in a short time, and in the meantime is anxious to demonstrate the pole, claiming that they will last generations instead of years, as do the timber poles. An important feature is that the new pole can be lengthened at any time with but the same cost per foot as at the time of construction.

OIL MAY BE FUTURE FUEL FOR THE NAVY

Pacific Coast Natural Supply Point—Coaling Stations Not Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The general Naval Board, of which Admiral Dewey is the president, has made recommendations that will revolutionize national policies and the naval construction of the world. The salient features of these recommendations are:

That oil be the fuel of the next Dreadnaughts to me authorized by the present Congress.

That, in order to subserve the purpose of such a new navy, there shall be a construction of oil-carrying vessels which will practically do away with the necessity for navy coaling stations.

That the navies of the not far distant future, being equipped with oil-carrying auxiliaries, the great conflicts of the future will be independent of "home bases."

Admiral Cone, chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, said today that the value of oil as a propulsive power and fuel had been demonstrat-

BIG ALMOND TREE ON JOPLIN RANCH WILL BE PARENT OF MANY ACRES OF ALMONDS

A big almond tree on County Treasurer J. C. Joplin's ranch in Bell canyon has been producing from 100 to 150 pounds of nuts every year for the last quarter of a century, but not until lately did its true worth become known. The shells were hard—the hardest of the hard-shell. It was a job getting the meat out, but once out the meat proved to be of good flavor. Mr. Joplin did not think the tree had any particular commercial value until two or three years ago. It was well known that the tree was a wonderful bearer, but its shells were so hard that it was considered somewhat of a good nut to let alone.

But since almonds do not produce steadily here, and, in fact, there are but few in the county, the producing quality of this old tree attracted attention. Andrew Joplin, son of the county treasurer, was convinced that the tree would reproduce in seedlings its bearing qualities, and that there would be a good market for the nut even if it was a hard-shell of hard-shells.

Today, however, has demonstrated, that the hard-shell is no longer any great obstacle. The county treasurer turned over to Fred Mitchell, who runs a walnut-meat market, supplying confectionery shops with nuts, a sack of ninety pounds of hard-shells. Mitchell adjusted his nut cracking machine, and put the hard-shell almonds through it. The result was surprisingly successful and pleasing. The shells were cracked, and the meats were easily separated. Out of the ninety pounds of almonds, about twenty pounds of meats were taken. Of the twenty pounds eighteen pounds were whole kernels without even a break in the brown skin, and the remainder is marketable.

Mitchell says he has no quotations on almond meats, but he thinks they are worth twenty-five or thirty cents a pound.

Andrew Joplin has planted eight acres of trees grown from the nuts produced by the old tree on his father's place. That he acted wisely in planting is now assured. C. E. Utt of Tustin has planted some of the trees and will plant more.

The history of the planting of the tree on the Joplin ranch is interesting. When Mr. Joplin came to this country about thirty-five years ago, he bought a quantity of what was known as Spanish peaches for canning. They came from the Joel Parker ranch. The seed from these peaches were planted by Mr. Joplin. As the trees began to develop he noticed that some three or four of them were sending out leaves different from the others. He gave one to his neighbor, Mr. Miller, and kept one, and they let the trees come to maturity. The one on the Miller ranch proved to be a sour bitter almond, but the one on the Joplin ranch was of fine flavor. Mr. Joplin concluded that the tree was a hybrid. The peach blossoms on the Joel Parker ranch had been fertilized in some way with pollen from some near-by almond tree.

This tale of an almond tree has strung out to some considerable length, but the importance of that old tree is not to be discounted. It is the only tree that is known to have borne nuts consistently, and whose seedlings have followed also with good production. With the success of the nut-cracking machine in its operation on the hard-shells as demonstrated at Mitchell's shop, there is no question but what the old tree on the Joplin ranch will be the parent of a good many acres of almonds in this country.

Countess de Swirsky at Opera House Tonight

Countess de Swirsky

The Countess Tamara de Swirsky, who appears at the Grand Opera House tonight, will introduce a striking innovation in a combination of the drama and the piano. Fresh from her triumphs in Newport, Boston and New York, she has crossed the continent to begin anew a series of conquests of the lovers of the beautiful in art and music, and the encomiums showered upon the little Russian are a glowing tribute to the inspirational and interpretative style of dancing wholly her own.

Countess de Swirsky's suggested program for her appearance at the Grand Opera House tonight follows: First Part—Dances Slaves, Dvorak.

(a) Overture (Orchestra).

(b) Danse Nuptiale.

(c) Mazurka Russe.

(d) Danse Nationale Russe.

Intermission and Orchestra

Second Part—(a) Polonaise; (b) Prelude; (c) Waltz; (d) Mazurka.

Third Part—Peer Gynt Suite; Dances Orientals, Grieg.

(a) Le Matin (Orchestra); (b) La

Mort D'Asie; (c) La Danse d'Anitra; (d) Dans le Chateau du roi des Montagnes.

Intermission and Orchestra Fourth Part—The Classic Dance "Tanagra;" "La Tanagra" Dances Grecques; Musique. Gluck Rachmaninoff; Debussy et Glazounoff.

In order to be properly understood the term "Interpretive Dancing" should be entirely differentiated in meaning from all other forms of dancing.

Ballet dancing and other forms of high grade dancing are expert, technical and beautiful movements of the body and limbs, representing no particular idea beyond that of perfect technical and graceful movement.

"Interpretive Dancing" begins with a perfect understanding on the part of the dancer of the musical composition she interprets. Other dancing is mechanical and technical, and it may be an exquisitely chiseled statue, but without the breath of life. Interpretive dancing is, primarily, a correct conception of the composer's ideas.

THE TEACHERS' PLATFORM

The only real contest in the meeting of the Southern California Teachers' Association in Los Angeles last week was over the subject of athletics. As has always been the case since the subject first began to attract the attention of instructors, there were extremists present on both sides and the members of the conservative section were kept busy preventing action that would have been anything but beneficial. An attempt was made to put through a resolution declaring against all contests between schools and it was around this that the warfare raged. It was finally modified to "deprecate the spirit of professionalism in interschool contests," which interesting platitude has saved more than one sharp engagement. The extremists, however, were given all the encouragement they could gather from the statement that, "we favor the encouragement of inter-class contests," so honors were just about easy between them. The remainder of the platform went through without question and will be found broad enough to cover most of the questions liable to call for attention in that department during the coming term, reading as follows: "We favor the establishment of a State University in Southern California."

"We favor an industrial education bill, as recommended by the California Teachers' Association."

"We urge legislation, looking to the establishment of intermediate schools in districts wishing to organize them."

"We recommend the adoption of the report in favor of retirement salaries."

"We oppose Discovery Day, Washington's Birthday, Lincoln's Birthday and Admission Day, as legal holidays, but favor their observance as a part of the school day exercises."

"We favor the consolidation of rural districts for the establishment and maintenance of special schools."

"We favor legislation requiring preparation for teaching special subjects in elementary schools, equivalent to that required for teaching of other subjects."

"We favor the extension of the compulsory education law to children 16 years of age, with a provision that children over 14 years may be excused upon proper request."

"We favor state aid for parents dependent upon children who are compelled by law to attend school."

"We favor state aid for vacation schools, on the same basis as that of rural schools."

"We favor provision for better supervision of rural schools."

"We favor legislation that will enable boards of education to employ principals and supervisors for a period of four years."

"We request the University of California to give real recognition to commercial, industrial and applied branches, by allowing pupils to offer these subjects for entrance in all her colleges."

"We favor six-year courses in high schools."

The experts of the Census Department have been figuring out the new apportionment for Congress, and the least number they can make fit without causing any state to lose a congressman is 440. They have prepared a number of tables showing how the distribution would come, commencing with a minimum of 390, or one less than the present number. As has always been the case in the past, there is decided opposition to any scheme which will cause the more unfortunate members of the Union to lose any portion of their present representation. There has always been talk against increasing the number of congressmen for fear it would make the body unwieldy, but when it came to the pinch it was found easier to add to the representation of the growing states than to take from the others. It is thought by the best posted men in Washington that this will prove to be the case again and that the number given will just about cover the membership of the new House.

Those English officers who pleaded guilty to playing spy in German fortresses no doubt feel very heroic just now, but they will find the price of their heroism to be pretty high before their sentences are completed.

Following out the suggestions made in President Taft's message, Senator Flint has introduced a bill making it unlawful for a railroad to own any interest in a competing boat line. The residents on the Pacific coast know from sad experience how very easy it would be to rob the people of all the advantages that should arise from the building of the Panama Canal, if the transcontinental railroads are to be allowed to own the steamboat lines upon which we must depend for competition. The faith of the nation is pledged to making this canal a perpetual check upon the rapacity of the railroads and the course of the bill proposed by Senator Flint will be followed with the closest interest.

Anaheim does not propose being left by the onward march of progress, and will vote a $90,000 bond issue for the construction of a sewer system as soon as the necessary legal formalities can be completed. With it will go an additional issue of $500 for the enlargement of the city lighting plant. It is thought the election can be held about January 16 next, and the feeling is that both projects will carry by a large majority.

The Mississippi State Department of Agriculture does not intend to allow the boys to get all the benefits of its training. Hereafter, wherever the boys are organized into a corn club the girls will be given an opportunity to form a poultry club, and will be accorded the same instruction and rewarded with the same prizes. It is easy to see that there will soon be a drop in the prices of poultry products throughout that section.

Eastern bond buyers are said to be greatly disgruntled by the tax laws of Oregon and refuse to make any more purchases in that state until those laws are changed. So far as heard from, the people of Oregon refuse to worry over the laws or the stand taken by the bond buyers, and are going ahead with their business just as if they thought they knew how to do it.

A movement is on foot for changing the names of the San Pedro streets and the Chamber of Commerce suggests that the names of the men and women prominent in the history of the place and in the work of its up-building be substituted. There is merit in the suggestion and other cities could adopt it to excellent purpose.

The spectacle of Mrs. Sage making a Christmas present of more than $1600 in gold coin to the workmen in the New York parks must have interfered seriously with Uncle Russell's enjoyment of the season, whatever may happen to be his present address.

Society

For Miss Cory

Miss Cory of Los Angeles was the honor guest at a pretty five-course dinner given Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock by her hostess, Miss Jean Stennett, at her West Washington avenue home. Pink roses were used in table adornment, and covers were laid for the hostess, for Miss Cory and for Misses Frances Bruner, Helen Eubank, Alice Norton and Mrs. Ray Wilson.

Sunshine Society

This society met yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hossler on Patton street, in an all-day meeting. Among other matters of business transacted during the day was the decision to remove the membership limit, the society heretofore being restricted to twelve members. The reason for enlarging the membership is that it is believed the work is too important to be restricted to so small a number.

Officers were chosen, Mrs. Clyde Bishop being re-elected president; Mrs. E. J. Eaton, vice president; Mrs. Dell Kroll, recording secretary; Mrs. B. F. Beswick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alice Patton, reporter.

The social part of the day was much enjoyed, Mrs. Hossler being hostess at a delicious noon dinner.

Y's Play

The young men and women of the Santa Ana Y's have announced an interesting play for this evening at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school rooms of the First Congregational church. The play is entitled "Aunt Dinah's Pledge." The rehearsal of last evening gave assurance of a successful presentation tonight.

Admission is free. An offering will be taken for the Y's. Each person present is expected to contribute.

Elks Make Visit

In response to an invitation from Santa Monica Lodge of Elks, about forty local members of the antlered herd journeyed to the seaside resort last evening and were royally entertained by their brethren there. The regular session of the lodge was held, during which a large class of candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order. Then followed the social hour, during which the hosts and their guests partook of a sumptuous banquet prepared in the club rooms. Roast turkey, roast pig, and all the accessories, were the toothsome viands which administered to the inner man. At 11 o'clock the Santa Anans reluctantly bade adieu to their genial hosts and boarded the car for the return trip, abundantly repaid for the time spent.

The visit last night was the initial one of a series of interchanging visits which it is believed will bring the lodges of Southern California into closer relationship, and will result in much profit as well as great pleasure.

Shower for Miss Cooper

MODERN HISTORY AS VIEWED FROM THE N. E. CORNER OF THE KANSAS TIN SHOP.

NO. 3.

It will be well remembered that about two hundred people accepted Mr. Raitt's invitation to the banquet in his Cow Barn and enjoyed a feast of good things with one hundred and twenty cows eating their supper under the same roof at the same time, probably never before was a cow barn kept so clean that such a treat was possible.

For a considerable time thereafter Mr. Raitt continued to sell milk at the long established price, but before long he found "Income" did not meet "Out Go."

In response to the general demand for pure milk from healthy cows Mr. Raitt had, at considerable expense, his whole herd of cows tested for tuberculosis and eliminated every suspicious cow and the boards of health of this and adjoining counties commended him for it.

In the course of time Mr. Raitt discovered that milk could not be produced and distributed in the painstaking manner that the business had thus far been conducted and he raised the price from 8 cents to 10 cents a quart.

It being plain to everyone that the cost of feed for the cows and the price demanded by the workmen was far in advance of past years it was supposed the consumer of milk would be willing and ready to pay the necessary advance.

Just about this time a large number of his customers concluded that rather than pay the added 2 cents a day for pure milk they would return to the milk of other days and save the two cents.

Now when Mr. Raitt found that about one-half of his milk was unsold and that those who were ready to pay the price were scattered over the whole territory before covered, thus increasing the relative cost of distribution, he concluded to sell out.

GLENN MARTIN STRUCK FENCE

Machine Damaged But Will be Flying Again Today—Switch to Blame

Los Angeles Times: Coming to the ground with too much speed to make a safe landing before the wind that was blowing at an angle toward the grand stand, Glen Martin, the amateur aviator of Santa Ana, ran his biplane into the fence and narrowly missed injuring Hubert Latham, the French aviator.

Latham saw that the machine was heading for the fence and did all in his power to turn it away from the danger, and in so doing was forced against the wire fence. Just as the plane was about to hit him, as quick as a flash he threw himself to the ground, allowing the wing of the aeroplane to pass over his prostrated body without his getting as much as a scratch. Radley was standing near, and he cried, rushing forward: "Latham! are you hurt?"

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms: of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of women's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by Dr. J. C. Pierce over forty years ago, much maligned but never equalled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

When Martin flew around the course at the finish of his second lap, he came close to the ground in front of the judges' stand as if to land, and said afterwards that it was his intention to do so, but that he was traveling with too much speed to land safely and went into the air for another lap.

On the third time around, he was too far west to risk weathering the eddy and pass the north side of the grand stand, so he headed to the open country and made a cross-country flight of several miles, making a complete circle and coming onto the course again about 300 yards west of the grand stand.

There was much anxiety evinced on the part of the spectators while Martin was flying over the fields to the south of the aviation grounds, as the land in that direction is very low, and the aviator was flying within a few feet of the ground most of the time. It looked as if he were in great danger of colliding with the numerous fences in the vicinity.

Martin is making repairs and is to try again today.

BRYAN WILL NEITHER GO NOR SEND MESSAGE

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 30.—Fearing a letter from him might provide a discordant note, W. J. Bryan yesterday not only declined an invitation from the Maryland Democrats to attend a banquet at Baltimore on Jan. 27, but refused to send a message for reading there.

"I express my appreciations of your invitation and request to send a message," he wired the committee, "but it is impossible to attend. I send no message, fearing a discordant note might be sounded, as I infer from those originating the scheme that those present are dissatisfied with the last Democratic national platform. I believe its planks have been vindicated."

BEN PITMAN WHO FOUNDED SHORTHAND, PASSES AWAY

CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.—Ben Pitman, brother of Sir Isaac Pitman and known throughout the world as the founder of the system of shorthand that bears his name, died Wednesday night at his residence here.

Mr. Pitman has been sick about a year. He undoubtedly was the father of shorthand in America, although his brother is generally accredited as the preserver of the original system.

"Oh, dear, no," replied Latham nonchalantly, as he brushed his clothes.

Martin was thrown violently against the fence and entangled in the wires but escaped with a bruise on the arm.

The reason that Martin came to the earth with so much speed was because of the failure of the switch, which is supposed to short-circuit the magneto, to perform its function, and the motor could not be stopped until the gasoline was shut off. Martin says he threw the switch at just the right time to make a perfect landing and when it failed to work all that was left for him to do was to shut off the gasoline, to do which he had to take one hand from the control.

During the interim that his hand was away from the steering device he lost the mastery of the machine and it yielded to the wind, running on the ground, gradually going closer to the fence. Martin saw his danger and yelled for someone to get to the tail of the machine to turn toward the center of the field, but he was then so close to the wire that he had hardly got the words from his mouth when the lower plane of the machine caught the netting, swinging the aircraft squarely around, the front of the running gear going through the fence. The lower posts supporting the elevator were broken and the right-hand side of the lower plane was demolished while the same side of the upper plane was badly injured.

As soon as the spectators had recovered from the thrill of seeing the daring work of Latham in his attempt to save Martin from accident and the latter had got down from the seat of the wrecked aeroplane there was a burst of cheers and hand-clapping that showed the appreciation of the crowd.

The accident occurred just at the close of the program of the afternoon. Martin had made the best flight that has been accomplished by an amateur since the opening of the meet.

It was evident to the mechanics and the aviators who were watching the flight from the front of the hangars that Martin was having trouble with the air currents, especially as he followed the course near the south end of the grand stand. Several of the aviators have complained that in that particular place there is an eddy that tends to drive the aeroplanes on the south side of the structure.

When Martin flew around the course at the finish of his second lap, he came close to the ground in front of the judges' stand as if to land, and said afterwards that it was his intention to do so, but that he was traveling with too much speed to land safely and went into the air for another lap.

On the third time around, he was too far west to risk weathering the eddy and pass the north side of the grand stand, so he headed to the open country and made a cross-country flight of several miles, making a complete circle and coming onto the course again about 300 yards west of the grand stand.

There was much anxiety evinced on the part of the spectators while Martin was flying over the fields to the south of the aviation grounds, as the land in that direction is very low, and the aviator was flying within a few feet of the ground most of the time. It looked as if he were in great danger of colliding with the numerous fences in the vicinity.

Martin is making repairs and is to try again today.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
Yesterday's market was dull. There were no changes in any line. Receipts were not very large, and even then it was hard to move the arriving products. The reason for this, according to the dealers, may be attributed to the fact that most of the retailers are taking invoice this week, or will begin doing so next week, and want to keep their stock down as much as possible, showing a better conclusion of business of the year past.

Egg receipts were 188 cases. The demand was only fair, and the market weak, some of the eggs selling as low as 31 cents a dozen. The case-count price was held at 32 cents, however. Creamery butter sold at a little more than the quotation. Receipts of the butter were 17,179 pounds.

Cheese arrivals were 1596 pounds. Edam moved fairly well having sold at 7.35, which is lower than the quotations considerably, and also more than 10 per cent lower than the sales of the same cheese last week.

Highland potatoes moved fairly well. Receipts of the spuds totaled 1350 sacks. There were no onion receipts. A small lot of Australian Brown, fancy stock, brought 1.60. There were no receipts of beans.

DAIRY COWS BROUGHT $9028

Raitt's Auction Resulted in Disposal of 122 Head at An Average of $74

One hundred and twenty-two head of fine dairy cows were auctioned at the Santa Ana Jersey Farm yesterday. Every cow that was up for sale was sold, thirty-five head being reserved by the owner, J. T. Raitt. The prices received were not what had been expected, and many a bargain in cows was found by the buyers who were present. Every cow in the herd had been tested for tuberculosis and was found free from it.

Over $9000 was taken in. The cows brought all the way from $30 to $150 apiece. The average was $74 apiece.

Raitt put up a barbecue that was a winner. Not since Raitt gave his celebrated "banquet in a cow-barn" has there been such a "feed" in Orange county. He barbecued 600 pounds of beef and set before the 675 hungry visitors some forty gallons of beans cooked to the queen's taste. By way of statistics it might be mentioned that thirty-five gallons of coffee was poured into cups.

FLOUR STOLEN BY BURGLAR

Seventeen Sacks Stolen From Dr. Chas. Mueller's Warehouse Last Night

A burglar stole seventeen sacks of flour last night from a small warehouse on the ranch of Dr. Chas. Mueller on Tustin avenue. Dr. Mueller had a quantity of grain in the warehouse, but none of the grain was taken. The flour was Banner Mills flour, 50-pound sacks.

The thief was evidently familiar with the place. He drove to the warehouse in a wagon. The door was unlocked. The flour was loaded into the wagon and was hauled away. That there had been a burglary was not known at the ranch until this morning. Officers Hamilton and Isenberg investigated.

RAISED CHECK LANDS IN JAIL

THOUSAND DOLLARS AT STAKE ON QUICK RISE
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—Today, the British aviator and Curtiss, the famous flyer, will race for a thousand dollars side bet. Within Curtiss hearing today, Radley declared his Bleriot was the fastest machine in leaving the ground. Curtiss smilingly disputed the statement.

"I bet you a thousand dollars I can leave the ground and mount to a given altitude quicker than you can," shouted the Englishman.

"You are on," replied Curtiss. Each deposited a thousand dollars with a stakeholder. The race will probably be tomorrow, Los Angeles day. The largest crowd of the meet is expected tomorrow. Mayor Alexander having issued a public statement declaring it an unofficial holiday.

A contest for stentorian honors is on among the announcers. Mike Ready underwent a test, and claims he was heard ten miles through the megaphone. Earl Gerard of Long Beach claims he can beat the record and wants a contest with Ready.

TED CANNON SECOND CALIFORNIAN TO FLY

DOMINGUEZ, Dec. 30.—Ted Cannon, a local aviator made a successful one mile flight in a home-made biplane today and was enthusiastically cheered. He was the second of the Californians to get into the air since the meet started. Glenn Martin of Santa Ana taking first honors. Reohrig and Walsh of San Diego and Day and McBirnie of Long Beach are yet unsuccessful.

Women flocked to the grounds early. Mrs. Hoxsey, in her son's hangar, assisted him to receive. The Curtiss, Wright, Latham and Radley hangars were filled with curious, well gown women anxious to see the birdmen at close range and touch the slim framework of the aircraft. Each hangar served light refreshments and the affair took the nature of an afternoon reception.
